“He must increase, but I must decrease.” John 3:13

John the Baptist was talking to his disciples. “I must decrease, Christ must increase.” He reassured them that he was not the Christ but was sent before Him. In 1967 the world experienced the anointing which was a “John the Baptist” anointing. It fell like a gentle rain from heaven and caused much havoc in the hearts, culture, and families of people all over the world even though many who experienced the havoc had no idea God was the cause — that through His Spirit He was awakening people so as to bring them back to Him — a righteous judge.

However, there were many who experienced this anointing first hand. They received Christ, they were baptized in the Spirit, they spoke in tongues, they raised their hands in praises to God. They were part of that anointing, “I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before Him.” Most of these recipients began the race, but had no vision of “He must increase, but I must decrease”. Thus they all died on the vine and now walk in a religion called, “Christianity”.

Now the time has come when the Father Himself has come to earth and is walking in the people who have, indeed, decreased so as to let Him increase. He has increased to the point where the person decreasing is nonexistent. Let me ask you a question. Is there any trace of a worm after the butterfly has emerged?? That is as completely changed we are to be as we pick up our cross daily, eat of His flesh and drink of His blood and decrease to a degree that we, indeed no longer exist, but Christ is our all in all.

Father will put up with no nonsense as did the prophets and the Son. It is He who demands us to change simply because He changes not. Each person will have to contend with Him — no scapegoats, no alibis, no hiding — just facing God, face to face. No one can kill Him for He is a powerful, awesome unseen reality.

Do you realize that with God, the Father making His appearance, the prayer prayed by the Christians for 2000 years is coming to pass?? “Thy will be done in the earth as it is in Heaven.” That will, my dear friends, is His very person, His covenant He has made with our forefathers and is making with us. Did you really mean what you prayed or were you just doing your religious duty?? Do you want to live in heaven? Do you want to have heaven invade the earth? If you do you will have to change, for neither He nor the laws of heaven will change.

Now, of course, I suppose all of you know that the Kingdom is nothing like the “church age”. Once we are all grown into the full stature of Christ there is no need for the cemetery called “the church”. The “church” as we know it, America as we know it, is all passing away. Let me give you something to ponder. Achieving is always more exciting than arriving: becoming always more stimulating than being. As a matter of fact, the world was never meant to satisfy you. Only as we reach our goal in Christ are we at rest, retired, and satisfied.

I hear a lot about “love” coming from the Christian community. It all sounds so phony as the measuring rod always seems to come from the tree of opposites rather than from the tree of Life. Do you know that “perfect love casts out all fear”? Now I would venture to say that the reason you are yet in a “church” is because you are afraid to come out. “I regret that I have but one life to give for my country” is a brave statement. The church, capitalism, communism are all modern words for Egypt. Your love is about to be tested, for God is saying, “Fear not the wrath of the king and be willing to die for the real America being born, if necessary.” Do you have perfect love that has cast out fear or are you just mouthing a lot of religious B.S.?

As we enter the Christmas season, I pray each of you is more interested in whether Christ is increasing and you decreasing than you are about the tree being decorated just so, or the gifts you will be getting, or the church service you will attend.

And from all of us here at Piecemakers, may you receive the reward of righteousness, a pure heart and that perfect love from the only One who can give a gift from above, even our dear Father, the Father of our country, and the Father of all who will turn to Him with a whole heart.

January — March 2001 Letter

With much Sincerity and Respect we send our New Year's Greeting to all,

As we gingerly enter the millennium be prepared to expect the ensuing years to be times when God goes to the core of our being — exposing, cleansing, changing and unifying us one with another. How can we be a United States of America if we are not unified one with another? God's blessings never change us. We change with His chastising. The womb of the age of Christianity must give way to the new age called "the kingdom of God".

The convulsing birth pangs are already being felt. Our laws no longer protect us — our judges are conformed to a sick justice system, the pastors have no vision — men's hearts are failing them as there seems to be no answer to our dilemma. And yet... this is America's finest hour. The purposes of God are about to be fulfilled as He severely prunes our nation back — not to a republic but to a theocracy (a state governed by the immediate direction of God).

Let us humble ourselves, pray for one another, hold no grudges, and seek the God of peace Who puts Satan under foot. Let us also pray for our president as he becomes "the burning Bush".

God bless you all as we bravely march out of darkness into the glorious light of God's Kingdom.
