

Six, Six, Six — the Sign of the Beast

Revelation 13:18 — Here is wisdom. Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the beast for it is the number of a man: His number is 666.

Let us with the wisdom from above solve once and for all the answer to the rumbling of who in hell is that awful beast with the mark of 666 on his forehead. The question which has every Christian pointing fingers at who is currently not agreeing with their doctrine or who the current terrorist is.

Considering that we are to be blameless and harmless in the midst of a crooked generation I find it quite odd that blaming someone else for our own corruption certainly does not leave us blameless. Nor does shooting missiles and killing one another leave us harmless. And yet, if you believe what the word of God tells us, we are doing things quite contrary to following the words of our Savior. If you are agreeing with what is going on in this country, you are as guilty morally and legally as if you are the perpetrator.

Back to our scripture. Only the wisdom from above can figure out the scriptures. All knowledge that we have been taught is demonic — James 3:15. Only humbling ourselves daily, suffering the pain of the cross as we give up our bestial 666 mind can we become a new creation with that wisdom from above — the mind of Christ. Then and only then do we have the understanding spoken of in the above scripture for until we are a new creation, we are nothing more than a 666 beast, for we understand in part — 1 Corinthians 13. Actually my dog has more understanding than a great percentage of the people I hear expounding their theory on how to solve the world's problems and who the great enemy is. Fools that we are, all we have to do is look into our own hearts, throw out all the phony religion and we will find hiding behind the image of the god of self we have created a beast that makes Frankenstein look saintly.

Now back to the scripture. It says it is a man. Well man was created on the sixth day. Man is triune for he is created in the image of God. So my dear Christian brothers and sisters, the Pope with all his religion, the pastor with all his false doctrine, the homosexual with all his frailties, Bush with all his macho pseudo savior ego and all of the you's and me's of the world all are the six, six, six. Therefore it is our duty to pick up our cross daily, leave behind the images we have created and become real as only God is real.

I would suggest you all pack up your bags and head for heaven — out of this age that has already ended and allow the crucifixion of the beast to become a reality so you can be numbered among those blameless and harmless in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, so you can be a light to the dark world, a city set on a hill to show others how to become a 777, a complete number, a citizen of heaven.

Hallelujah, thank you Lord Jesus.
