

CHARITY

“And yet show I unto you a more excellent way.” 1 Corinthians 12:31

“And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honored, all members rejoice with it.” (1 Corinthians 12:26)

I write this message out of the anguish of God’s heart. Because of Christ, the western world in the past has shown the world a more excellent way. What has happened that we say one thing and do another? What has happened to America that has turned on the world presenting God as a punishing God??

We have more prisons than all other countries put together.

Our respect for our fellowman as the brethren of Christ has diminished into a dog eat dog, bullying, revengeful society. An eye for an eye is even more sane than what is happening in America today. For we see the bullies preying on the weak; those in authority bullying and killing to show who is the boss. Slavery of the worst kind has become the norm all under the guise of doing the victims a favor.

Now for message that is coming from the anguish in God’s heart. Our prisons which operate by your and my tax money under the guise of being correctional facilities have no semblance of showing the innocent victims a better way of life. Instead of correcting their behavior, they turn them into robots with no will to live, say nothing of amounting to a working, tax paying entity of our society.

Instead, once the victim is a property of the state, it is immediately reduced to a life worse than an animal with no vision for a future. Time is taken from them. Even the animals and trees are subject to time. All hope is taken from them. And hope is the very substance of our existence. And yet most of the people responsible for these actions are professing Christians. Can you understand now why the Jews, God’s people who refused Christ ended up in the ovens?? Now I want none of the snivelling babies to squeal, “She’s anti-semitic. I am as sick of the phony Christians as God was sick of the Jews. Both supposed representatives of Him on earth.

If we indeed do have any true correctional systems left, we show by example.

1 Corinthians 13:1 — “Though I speak with all piety and authority and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass or a honking horn. And though if I have the keys to the cells and understand the rules, and have the faith to move mountains and have not charity, I am nothing. And though I put on all the doing good for our community and country and have not charity it profiteth nothing.

“Charity suffereth long, and is kind. Charity envieth not, charity vaunteth not itself, nor is puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, rejoices not in iniquity but rejoices in the truth... Charity bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

“Charity never fails.”

Now, either Jesus is a liar or we have strayed so far from reality that good is called evil and evil is called good.

Now that we have been shown yet a better way of correcting and helping our fellowman, thus helping the whole entity of which we are a part, it is up to all of us to turn from our wicked ways, and seek the face of God and start doing unto others exactly what the Bible tells us to do.
