

But He Who Endures to the End Will Be Saved (Matthew 24:13)

Interesting scripture considering that every teacher I have ever heard, from the least to the greatest, has misled the people into thinking they are saved when they received Christ. It really would be better for one not to have received Christ at all as we enter into the next age, then to have received Him and then perished because of the lack of the vision of returning to the Father. We know from 1 Corinthians 15 that the seed that receives Christ is our natural man. We also know that the natural man does not receive the things of the Spirit of God nor can he know them because they are spiritually discerned. (1 Corinthians 2:14) Now we have a dilemma. If the natural man is the seed that receives Christ but cannot know God, how then can we come back to our source and have that intimacy with our Father that so many of the teachers and prophets are talking about??

Let me answer that question by saying that once you receive Christ you have the power to go on to know the Father but you must pick up your cross and begin the death march through the wilderness and die a death by fire. The fiery sword is still being turned every way to keep all from our Father except they change their elements by the blood of Christ or worded another way: unless they drink the cup they will not see God or know Him.

Intimacy with God is not a gift, it is an inheritance. An inheritance comes as a result of death. Now can you see how an acorn can be ruined by its fertilization if it never comes to its fruition as an oak tree. So it is with us. We are not saved until we produce life that comes with the death of the seed and come into perfection (maturity) of the oak tree.

The harlots like Liz Taylor will come in before the Mother Therasas and the popes who get their reward from the honor of men. Before the end of the age, (the end of the Adam nature) we will see many people doing many wonderful things in His name. Do not be deceived for there are no good people in the Kingdom of God. There is only Christ and those who belong to Him. Can you imagine anyone being foolish enough to think we can practice the presence of God or that we can get intimate with Him as long as we own anything let it be wife, children, possessions or our own life?? Foolish man, do you not know that God is a consuming fire and it is a fearful thing to fall into the bosom of a consuming fire?? Do you teach others and do not know that Adam's flesh and blood cannot enter the kingdom: that his flesh has to be crucified and his blood shed or he cannot know God; that Adam is born of water but Christ is born of fire??

God's judgment is falling like a torrent from heaven washing away all deception, all former teaching, all the phonies who pretend to know Him but are impostors and is shaking every kingdom so only God, Christ and His kingdom remains. His mercy will be poured out in abundance to all who are not too proud to confess they know Him not, who relinquish all the idols in their heart and allow Him to be Lord over every facet of their life. Pray He not pass you by as one who is unworthy to enter the kingdom as He is in His vineyard checking the hearts of the people with a wrathful jealousy.

I'll see you as we sup together with Him in His kingdom. I pray we all endure until the end and we see the salvation of our God.
